What Effect Will Rome-

On United States?

(International News Service)
As German warplanes rained bombs on Britain and British planes hurled destruction at German-held invasion bases and other Nazi targets, there was one major issue today in all major capitals of the world—the new tripartite Rome-Berlin-Tokyo military pact.
Authoritative British spokesmen said Japan may use her new alliance with the Axis and Nazis as an excuse to enter the war against England.
Speaking for Japan, Nazi spokesmen in Berlin denied the Japanese have any territorial ambitions in the Pacific and at the same time announced the Reich's new alliance would not alter the German policy of respecting the Monroe Doctrine.
To Force New Order
But it was revealed that Germany and Italy are preparing to force a "new order" in Africa, entailing

Strange things happen daily, but one of the strangest incidents to add to Friday's calendar, was the following through of an old Irish rang true late Friday afternoon on East Washington street, when this Pa. New saw first the wagon of hay, the white horse and then walking slowly down East Washington street, a woman with very bright red colored locks.

Mrs. John C. Sergeant, of 226

slate color and the abdomen curves wings with two shiny spots on them.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Faced by the German-Japanese-Italian pact, the administration today planned a series of counter moves to bring about closer cooperation among the United States, Great Britain and the Latin-American states.
Most important of these was a series of military staff talks to be held between the U. S. general staff officers and military delegations from Latin-American countries who will visit this country in October and November.
They will be shown the best that America has to offer in long-range bombers and speedy pursuit planes.
These will include not only the newest types of heavy bombers—mightiest of land planes—but also new 400-mile-per-hour pursuit ships.

Says Japan Not Entering War

Japanese Foreign Minister Makes Broadcast On Japan's Position

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Sept. 28.—Japan has no immediate intention of entering the European war or of challenging any power "without provocation," Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka declared in a radio broadcast today.
But he warned that occasions might arise later calling for a "momentous decision."
In a statement obviously intended for consumption in the United States as well as Japan, Matsuoka said that the object of Japanese foreign policy is to "dispose of the China affair" and construct a "sphere of mutual prosperity in greater East Asia."

Commenting on the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo military pact declared yesterday in Berlin, he declared:
"Japan's intentions are not yet fully understood by countries attempting to obstruct her and resorting to stratagems to lock her path."
"The three-power pact does not mean that Japan is entering the European war at present or that she intends to challenge any power without provocation."
"Occasions might arise calling for momentous decisions in a future beset by difficulties. The government and people will unite to endure hardships and sacrifices."

British Merchant Ships Are Sunk Is Report By Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—Two British armed merchant ships were sunk and a third was badly damaged yesterday, when German long-range guns, firing from the French side of the channel, sent shells crashing into Dover harbor, the German high-command claimed today.
Another British ship was sunk off the coast of Ireland when German bombers attacked a convoy, a communique, which also described the

"New Agreement" Intended

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—On behalf of its new military ally, Nazi Germany today denied any Japanese territorial ambitions in the Pacific ocean.
At the same time, the Reich announced that the new tripartite Italo-German-Japanese alliance would not alter Germany's policy of respecting the Monroe Doctrine and reiterated its contention there will be no interference in Latin America.
(Editor's Note: An official Berlin spokesman yesterday stated that Germany and Italy soon would begin to deal with Spain as the "mother country" of Latin-American nations.)
"The new agreement," an official spokesman declared, "is intended as a barrier to extension of the war."
"Not Provocative"
"It is not provocative, and it does not alter Germany's fundamental policy of respecting the Monroe Doctrine."
"It is directed chiefly against dark forces and certain cliques in England, France and all parts of the world which are deliberately seeking extension of the war."
"So far as America is concerned, we never took any stand against the Monroe Doctrine, but continue to say 'America for the Americans.' We never intended to and we never will mix in the political affairs of the Americas. We have never said that our defensive frontier lies or will be extended to the Amazon."

PIERCE AIR BATTLES OVER GREAT BRITAIN

(Bulletin)
LONDON, Sept. 28.—A formation of more than 100 Nazi planes tried to cross the Kent and Sussex coasts late this afternoon, causing the air raid sirens in London to scream for the third time today.
Royal Air force planes roared into the sky to meet the raiders and a series of terrific combats took place in the sky.
Not a single enemy plane reached the capital from this formation.
During the course of the raid bombs crashed in East London, damaging blocks of apartments five persons were reported injured by flying debris.
Reports for a southeastern town said a strong force on German machines crossed the Kent coast and headed for London, flying so high they were invisible although the air throbbed with the roar of their motors.
Distant Explosions
While the alarm was in progress, far distant bomb explosions were audible and British fighting planes engaged German raiders attempting to penetrate London's eastern and southeastern outskirts.
Several sharp bursts of machine gun fire and the roar of aircraft engines could be heard from Central London. There was fairly heavy anti-aircraft fire east of the city.
The raiders flew over the coast above shielding patches of cloud but immediately were met by a fierce barrage of ground fire. Most of them continued inland, however.
While Nazi raiders again pounded London and other areas of the British Isles last night and early this morning, British bombers dropped tons of missiles on German-held invasion ports and targets in the Reich itself.

Asserts New Military Pact Shows Dictators Afraid Of Uncle Sam

By J. C. OESTREICHER

There is one comforting thought in connection with the pistol pact signed in Berlin by Germany, Italy and Japan yesterday.
The dictators are afraid of us.
If there is any prestige involved in becoming considered important by the axis powers, the United States can now obtain a good deal of satisfaction. For the agreement pledging these three nations to defend one another against any nation "not now engaged in war" is directed against us.
It constitutes the first time since the dictatorship idea was born that we have been thought worthy of consideration. Germany, Italy and Japan in the past have jeered at our democracy, sneered at our defenses and brushed aside our protests and expressions of indignation against aggression as mere pious manifestations without physical value.
They have taken the view we have no place in world affairs, know

Japanese Fomented Shanghai Strike Is Doomed To Failure

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 27.—A Japanese fomented strike in Shanghai, designed to discredit American and foreign authority in the International Settlement, was doomed to quick failure today.
The general strike, precipitated yesterday when Chinese coolies threw down their tools in municipal plants, was reportedly broken this afternoon when striking street car and bus operators reached an agreement.
Other strikers, discouraged by the presence of American marines, who were ordered to stand by for emergency duty, and by the presence of the United States destroyers in the harbor, were expected to soon fall in line and resume work.

Japan Sees U. S. Relations Strained

Officials Show Grave Concern

New Axis Pact And Scrap Iron Exchange Cause Of Anxiety

MANY AMERICANS TO LEAVE TOKYO

By LARRY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 28. — While Japanese newspapers hailed the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo military pact as a "blow to United States imperialism in the Far East," Japanese officials today frankly admitted themselves gravely concerned over the future of Japanese-American relations.

A further strain in already acrimonious relations between Tokyo and Washington was predicted as a result of the new pact and President Roosevelt's announcement of an embargo on scrap iron and steel, which Tokyo regards as discriminatory against Japan.

Termining the actions of the United States as contrary to the dictates of common sense, Japanese officials expressed fears that an American embargo on oil shipments might force the Japanese into the Dutch East Indies to obtain essential military supplies.

Diplomatic Attack

In anticipation of the embargo on scrap iron and steel, it was stated, Japan has made arrangements to obtain ore in Manchukuo. But authorities denounced President Roosevelt's embargo announcement as a direct diplomatic attack upon Japan and said it had destroyed the last hopes of an economic understanding between the United States and Japan.

Quarters close to the government claimed that the United States fears increasing Japanese expansion to the south and linked American opposition to Japan's actions in French Indo-China with reports of an Anglo-American-Australian mutual defense plan.

They expressed the view that the Burma road, recently closed by Great Britain at the request of Japan to arms shipments destined for China, may now be reopened, the United States embargoes may be strengthened and that there even may be a move for "protection" occupation of the Dutch East Indies.

NEW INVASION BASE BOMBED

Incendiary bombs fell at the rate of five per minute for over an hour, and hits were scored on docks on the east and west banks of the harbor as well as on the Quay and Quayside establishments near Pont Du Caudan.

Flames spread rapidly among the dockside buildings, the air ministry reported, and other fires were started in a large block of warehouses on the east bank.

One huge blaze "engulfed" a building near the harbor power station, it was claimed.

of a comprehensive situation. It is a political announcement — not a definition of any territorial demands or ambitions.

"Strikes At Clashes"

"The pact simply strikes at certain clashes seeking extension of the war by frustrating them beforehand in their machinations, and finally it focuses all efforts on the defeat of England. Individual issues and problems must be regulated in their own way."

Questioned as to whether delivery of war materials to combatant powers by non-belligerents might influence the treaty, the spokesman said:

"Material acts such as the delivery of fifty out of date destroyers to England by the United States can be regarded as unimportant."

"This was not an act which affected the course of the war or concerns the principles of the pact."

"Naturally a comprehensive wholesale procedure of that nature is most usually leading into the direction of war."

"The fact that dark cliques had used these and other methods to draw other nations into war had flashed red lights to the world even before the pact itself came as a warning. The deliveries themselves merely demonstrate the spirit that the pact was designed against. The axis will do everything to keep this spirit of short-sighted, brutal, plutocratic, egotistical and inhuman warring from achieving its aims in Europe."

"If it triumphs, more than 250,000,000 soldiers and every man, woman and child in three great empires will strike back."

Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Italian foreign minister who signed the agreement for Italy, will leave tomorrow for Rome with Ramon Serrano Suner, Spanish minister of the interior.

could build himself enormous power and bankruptcy would be the end of free government.

Blank Check Appropriations

"Yet, retaining the form and abandoning the substance, this administration insisted on having blank check appropriations by congress. It's power to re-elect itself in 1940 is basically built on those blank checks."

"The founders of government knew that any chief executive with enormous sums of money in his hands could control an election. I could go on without end and describe to you how this administration time and time again has sought to seize power. That is the identical route by which every ancient and modern democracy has died."

"Without at all raising the question of motives—without even discussing the question—which I shall assume are of the noblest, the course of action by which the forms are preserved and the substance destroyed of the democratic process is exactly the route by which Octavius ended the Roman republic."

Method To End Democracies

"It is identically the route by which the modern democracies of Europe ended. In Germany there is still a Reichstag and in Italy still a parliament presumably elected by the people. They retain all the forms but the substance is gone."

"Someone will say that is a far greater degree than we have in this country and I shall be the first to admit it. But I learned in school that trends in history pursue until the trend is changed."

"You cannot have your cake and eat it."

"You must either take democracy and the American system of government and make it work as it is, using the coordinating branches of the government or you must admit that the democratic system is not the effective way of life."

Sen. Key Pittman (D) Nev., chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said:

"The senate's immediate and unanimous ratification of the Havana convention conclusively proves that there is a solidarity in this hemisphere."

"It minimizes the effect of the solidarity proclaimed in the western hemisphere as outlined in the Rome, Berlin, Tokio axis treaty."

"It furnishes concrete evidence that the countries of the western hemisphere are prepared to meet any aggression with a united front."

Meanwhile, observers here believed that the immediate effect of the pact among the Fascist powers would be to intensify cooperation among the United States and the other democratic nations.

Secretary of State Hull has been telling all questioners that the United States long ago had known of the working arrangement among Berlin, Rome and Tokio and taken that into account in its own diplomatic planning.

The name of the suspect was withheld, but detectives asserted he had been a companion of Mrs. Atkins on at least one occasion and was the man they had been searching for for the last several days.

Wearing only stockings and one white shoe, the woman was found clubbed and slashed to death in a vacant farmhouse near Horsham, Montgomery county, after having been missing from home since a week ago today.

Mrs. Atkins, the former wife of John C. Angier, of Baltimore, a second cousin by marriage of Doris Duke Cromwell, was the wife of James F. Atkins, one-time sailor and now an iron worker at the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Eddystone, Pa. She had left home last Friday night in a huff, neighbors told police, after having a quarrel with her second spouse, father of her twin, 3 1/2-year-old sons.

News Briefs From City Hall

Today's junior court could have been appropriately named "Cry-Babies' Court" because some of the youngsters were quite young and mothers who accompanied offsprings to the session carried babies. The children had been instructed by police to report before His Honor Charles B. Mayne, the mayor, because of pranks allegedly outside the bounds of mischief. As a rule His Honor first strives to win the confidence of the children, then gives them a verbal spanking following which he winds up the session by telling them one of his interesting stories. As a result most of the juniors leave the courtroom their faces basked in smiles.

Ahem! Several pickpockets operated here last night. They did not get much for their efforts. Police report the pickpockets got two empty-pocketbooks and one with a small amount of money at the football game.

James Leo Duffy

nothing about Europe and Asia and are simply supercargo on the ship of state charting a "new order" upon the world's seas.

Change Of Heart

Their sudden change of heart comes strangely enough at a time when this country is embroiled in a presidential campaign and when our usual tight coordination is subjected to an election year. It is nothing less than complimentary that we should come to be looked upon as potentially strong at a moment when the essential weaknesses of a democratic system are being exposed to their greatest degree.

Yet there is no question that the axis is afraid of us, for the present or the future. Certainly the major object of the deal made yesterday is to immobilize our military and naval resources.

It is designed ostensibly to prevent this country from stripping its Pacific defenses to give full assistance to Great Britain, should that ever become advisable or necessary. The same time, it presumably ties our hands in the far east. For Germany is obligated to attack, or attempt to attack, upon our Atlantic seaboard if we are forced into conflict against Japan.

Situation Changed

A few months ago, none of the ruling spirits in Europe or Asia thought we were important enough to worry about. Now it is evident the situation has changed. Germany and Italy have clearly abandoned all hopes of a short war. They know England is no pushover. They know that all the seas and all the lands of the universe are potential battlefields.

This was not the case when the dictators trumpeted the same old slogan—democracy is doomed, decadent and dying.

But the agreement signed in the Reich chancellery makes it clear they don't really believe their own slogan. What they do believe—what they see and fear—is that the United States has aroused from its somnolence, is rapidly whipping into shape a gigantic military machine to meet any situation that may arise.

A Pittsburgher, Glenn W. Gilliland, and a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

A wedding dinner supplemented the ceremony, served at the University Club in Pittsburgh, for members of the immediate families of the couple. Later, the newlyweds left on a brief trip to Washington, D. C. and New York City. Upon returning, they will be home to friends, in their newly furnished apartment, at 1101 Highland avenue, this city. For traveling, the bride wore a chic traveling ensemble in duobonnet and a short skunk fur chubby, completed her attire. Her accessories were black.

MISS RUTH M. NEWMAN BRIDE OF D. W. WILSON

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Newman of the Harlansburg road, their daughter, Miss Ruth Newman, became the bride of David W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Wilson of the Butler road, this afternoon, at 1:45 o'clock, before an improvised altar, an embankment of flowers flanking the fireplace, providing a lovely setting. White gladioli, dahlias and white asters were used, against a background of palms and ferns.

The single ring service was used, with the Rev. Robert E. Douglass of the Neshannock United Presbyterian church, officiating.

For her marriage, the bride was attired in a pink chiffon toe length gown, with matching shoulder length veil, caught with flowered band around her head. Pink and white mums and pompons, made up her arm bouquet. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. James F. Lutton, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was gownned in powder blue taffeta, also toe length, and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white mums.

James F. Lutton, served as best man.

Six year old Ruth Helen Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Rose of Cleveland, O., as flower girl, wore a short pink chiffon frock, and carried a basket of pink rose buds and pompons.

Serving as heralds, were Paul and Raymond Newman, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Newman wore a burgundy crepe dress, and Mrs. Wilson, was attired in a black crepe dress. Both mothers had gardenia shoulder corsages.

Appropriate wedding music was contributed by Miss Adelaide Ray of McKees Rocks, soloist. She sang Carrie Jacobs Bonds' "I Love You Truly" and Victor Herbert's "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life". Pianist was Robert Dufford, cousin of the groom and son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dufford, this city. Lohengrin wedding march was played for the processional, and Mendelssohn's was offered for the recessional. A large assemblage of guests, witnessed the occasion, and participated in the informal reception that followed, in the Newman home. Appointments featured the pink and white motif, a floral centerpiece adorning the bridal table, with lighted candles at either side, and at one end, was placed the tiered wedding cake, surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. Pouring, was Mrs. Norman Patton.

The couple departed later this afternoon, on a trip to Washington, D. C. For going away, the bride was attractive in a stylish plaid skirt with dusty pink velvet top and accessories in beige. Her shoulder corsage was a yellow mum. Upon returning, the couple will receive friends, at their new residence, 941 Adams street.

The bride attended Slippery Rock State Teachers college, and is a teacher in Hickory Heights school. The bridegroom, a graduate of Princeton high, is associated with the J. R. Frew Furniture company of this city.

The rehearsal was held Friday evening, with the reception for members of the wedding party, taking place at the Newman residence.

Since the news of the couple's engagement was made known, the bride has been feted at many lovely parties. Their shower and wedding gifts, were arranged in an upstairs room of the bride's residence.

CAIN-McWILLIAMS WEDDING IS TONIGHT

This evening shortly before sundown, a pretty wedding ceremony of interest to many, will take place in the First Christian church, the principals being Miss Dorothy E. Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cain of 122 North Ray street, and Robert A. McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McWilliams of 404 Laurel boulevard.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor, will pronounce the vows at 6:30 in the presence of a large assemblage of guests, using the single ring service. As the guests are ushered to their seats by Oscar G. Thellman and Wilbur Stirtz, a program of nuptial music will be played by Mrs. Kathryn Nessel Allen on the beautiful church organ. In her half hour contribution she will include "Liebestraum", "Because" and the Lohengrin wedding march. During the exchange of vows, echoes of "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me" will be resounded.

The church altar has been tastefully decorated with choice ferns and palms, sufficiently breaking the bareness, and yet not hiding the beauty of the carved chancel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride will be attired in an Alice blue velvet street length dress, with fullness being given in the back of the skirt with the new unpressed plaits. Her saucy dot hat with a nest of birds decorating the front is shaded with a matching veil, falling to her shoulders. Her accessories will be carried out in the new soldier blue, and her shoulder bouquet is orchids. She will wear jeweled bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, and white kid gloves, almost elbow length.

Mrs. Jack Earl as her sister's matron of honor, who resides in North Apollo, will wear a winterberry velvet street length creation, with two pouch pockets, and accessories to match. Her velvet hat is set off with a bow in back, and her flowers in shoulder bouquet will be of Tallman roses.

Frederick H. McWilliams, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cain will wear a river blue wool crepe dress with black accompaniments and a shoulder corsage of pink roses and white baby pompons. Mrs. McWilliams, mother of the bridegroom, will be attired in a plum toned crepe dress, with accessories in black, and a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses and white pompons.

As the triumphant sounds of Mendelssohn's march are played, the bride party will retire to the church vestibule to receive congratulations. A reception will follow at the Cain residence for the immediate families and a few close relatives, numbering 35. Pastel colors have been chosen for the appointments throughout, and a tiered wedding cake will have a place of prominence.

Later this evening, the couple will depart on an eastern trip, and upon returning in a few days will be "at home" to friends after October 1 at 409 East Garfield avenue. The bride will wear for traveling, a rabbit's hair rose wool dress, with belted jacket, and accessories featured in black suede.

Lennig, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lennig, 1110 East Washington street, the impressive single ring service being used, with the rector, Rev. Charles J. Burton, officiating.

In the presence of a throng of guests, including relatives, friends and neighbors, the vows were exchanged at 11:30 o'clock, before the church altar, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Palms and ferns were used in outlining the chancel, providing a solid green background for the arrangement of white flowers. Lighted candles in branching candelabrum, shed a glow over the setting.

As the church organist, Mrs. Ethel Evans, played the Lohengrin wedding march, the bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her blonde beauty was enhanced, in an ice blue net gown, with full skirt, made toe length, and her matching veil, was fingertip length, which fell from a circle of flowers adorning her head. Her arm bouquet of roses, concealed a shoulder corsage, which she wore later for "going away."

Preceding, and throughout the ceremony, Mrs. Evans offered a half hour program of nuptial music, and, guest soloist, Fred Riley, brother of the bride, sang, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Truly."

Mr. and Mrs. Lennig departed afterwards for a ten-day trip to Atlantic City, New York and other places of interest. For going away, the bride selected a rose tailored dress, bolero style, with duobonnet accessories. Upon returning they will take up residence in their newly furnished home in McKeesport.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FAILURE AT COLLEGE TRACED

Many entering college now will never graduate. As we see our sons and daughters and the sons and daughters of our neighbors going off to college, car loads, bus loads, train loads of them, we little sense the disappointments awaiting a large proportion of them within the next six months or few years. I refer to the tremendous number who will fail at college, who will not go back after the mid-year or June examinations this year or during the next three years. In some colleges, from a quarter to half of those who enter the freshman year won't be able to graduate. Of these failures, the greatest number fortunately, occur during the first year, even the first semester.

Face-Saving
It is curious how many of these college failures are able to slip back home almost unnoticed. For the mental health of the youth and his family, it is well that this is so. Nevertheless, the effort at face-saving is sometimes so intense as to cause far greater psychological damage to the youth and his parents than if a clear breast of the facts had been made in the community right away.

Not for all who fail at college is the effect disastrous. For some, indeed, it proves a spur to honest and effective effort in a more suitable field. But for many, the effect on the mental health of youth and parents also may be serious.

Graduate students looking for a good field of research for a master's or doctor's thesis, should make a careful study of what happens to the college failures years later, also to the many failures in professional schools, as in law, engineering, medicine.

Failure Causes
Who does fail at college? Many lack sufficient preparation, mental ability to do college work, or effective methods of study.

Some fail because of physical and emotional ill health. Not a few of these emotional cases come from broken homes or from homes that don't enjoy happy family relationships.

Then there is the large, if not the largest group, who fail for want of sufficient self-discipline to work hard and use their time well at college. Their failure comes chiefly through their parents' failure at bringing them up during their early years at home.

Though many college doors are still open to practically any high school graduate, few youths who rank below the upper half or even third of their class in high school will succeed at college. In support of this statement are considerable objective data. There is an appalling number of students who rank in the lower half of their high school class and who because of the misguided ambition of their parents, go to college, destined to fail or barely graduate. The mortality among them is terrible. And the heartaches!

Solving Parents Problems
Q. What do you think about ridicule and sarcasm in the classroom?
A. They are about the most savage and destructive practices any teacher can engage in. For the sake of justice, personality and mental health they should be outlawed.
Q. Is it good to have a child who takes music lessons play for company?
A. Depends on the company, how the child feels about it, and what your purpose is. If your aim is to encourage the child in his music efforts; if having him play does this; and if the company are not bored and understand, it might prove excellent. But if your purpose is to exploit the child, don't be so selfish and childish.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NECESSITY NOT INDIGNITY.
Doubtless many of the country's 3,600,000 alien residents, already on the march to the nation's postoffices to be registered and fingerprinted, will feel that this stern measure is a reflection on their loyalty to this country.

In ordinary times, they would be right. But these, they must agree, are not ordinary times. Events abroad have shown, with appalling clearness, that stern measures must be taken to check treachery, espionage and other activities if a nation is to preserve its independence. Although the great majority of the nation's foreign-born are loyal to the flag of the United States and to the Republic for which it stands, this majority will admit that some of their numbers have no such love or respect for this country. On the contrary, this minority has sought to sow seeds of disunity, hatred and confusion in our midst. It is to check up on this hostile minority and to give protection to the deserving majority that the alien registration bill has been passed.

Fingerprinting, moreover, is no shameful indignity reserved exclusively for aliens and law violators. All Federal civil service workers are fingerprinted as a matter of course. So, in the last war, was every man serving in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. And it may well be only a very short time until all United States citizens are required to be fingerprinted.

Uncle Sam's friendly effort to check up on who are among the 3,600,000 non-citizens living in his vast household deserves the whole-hearted cooperation of his guests.

Aviation Safest Kind Of Fighting
Have More Chance Than Ground Men
World War Veteran Cites Benefits

By CHARLES F. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—"Aviation," observes George Miller, "is the safest kind of fighting there is."

I'd been thinking otherwise until he spoke. But George is an authority. He was an active participant in the last war. The accompanying picture shows him in uniform. He's somewhat older and a good bit plumper now than he was then. He wasn't in the air service, but he got an earful from practical flyers while in the army, and an earful also from fellow grounding soldier commentators concerning the comparative risks run by scrapers respectively on terra firma and overhead. Today, as the National Press club's chief bartender in Washington, he has a national and international acquaintance among the scribes who write the world's news. Visiting war correspondents are numerous among the customers he serves drinks to, and he gets a third earful from them whenever war talk is on tap (as it everlastingly is) in the club tap room.

George's story is that these experts all agree—the chaps up in the sky run no such risks as the ones who are swapping shots down on the solid earth underneath.

Hari To Hit
"You see," he explains, "a terrestrial doughboy (George uses some pretty good language occasionally) can't do much dodging. If somebody gets a bead on him he's midding sure to get plunked. He's a fixed target, so to speak."

"But a birdman, bouncing around the way he does, is darned hard to knock over. The 'Archies,' as the English call 'em, waste dozens of shots for every one they score with. To account for an aviator, some other flyer or a ground battery has got to register a hit."

"As for a guy down below, if he's shot he's shot. He's a casualty at best. Maybe he's killed dead."

"If an airman's plane is punctured, though, perhaps it isn't put out of business."

"Even if you're shot out of control, you have a fair chance of landing your plane and yourself. Lots of flyers take a drop."

"Finally, in an extremity, you can bail out by parachute, with a reasonable prospect of staying alive. Possibly you'll be captured, but that isn't the same thing as being outright croaked."

Blitzkrieg Of Today
George has to admit that, in the current blitzkrieg between the Nazis and the British islanders, aviation fatalities have been relatively numerous, as compared with those among surface scrapers.

That, however, he points out, is because the surface belligerents haven't been actually engaged. "If they had been," he asserts, "there would have been a wholesale slaughter. But the list of bumped-off aviators isn't reported to have run up very high."

"Oh, yes. Folks down on earth have been killed off a-plenty. That, though, is precisely what I'm arguing. The grounding aggregation catches haves, but the aviators don't suffer so much."

"So aviation is the branch that I'd recommend our boys to try to break into, if they want to be comparatively safe."

"It's supposed to be extra-dangerous. It ain't comparatively."

We Can Spare Him
George ought to be an invaluable recruiting officer for our aviation arm.

He isn't available, however. I think he's above the 35-year conscription limit. Aside from that, he's an indispensable civilian—behind the National Press club bar.

All the same, his comment ought to be extremely consoling to mothers whose sons are ambitious to break into Uncle Sam's military air corps.

Just Folks

THE PEEKER
I write this for golfers—a "wall of despair."

A song of a burden we all have to bear.
And that heartache which comes to the victory seeker
When he sadly discovers his partner
When he sadly discovers his partner's a peeker.

In partnership matches—those four-ball affairs—
The partners are friendly as Yellow-stone bears.
But one of them slowly but surely grows meeker
When it dawns upon him that his partner's a peeker.

Now there's nothing that's worse on the fairways we tread
Than a partner persistently lifting his head
And there's never a cry from the stronger or weaker
So filled with frustration as: "I've drawn a peeker!"

I know what it means with such chaps to be paired
And that feeling of hopelessness
That comes when you're paired
So now to that rare golfing bird, here's a beaker.

The other man's partner who's never a peeker.

Hints On Etiquette
If a married man is asked to be best man at the wedding of his best friend, he may accept, but his wife should be included in any entertainment that may be given for the bridal party.

Another test of manly poise is to get the flu or something and hear your wife complaining that you haven't enough insurance for her.

The Great Game Of Politics

Captain Elliott

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.

EXCEPT that the third-termers seem disposed to parade it, and Mrs. Roosevelt who is taking an increasing part in the third-term campaign, mentions it in her column, it is likely the securing of a captaincy for himself in the Army Air Corps. Second son of the President, might have gotten by without adverse comment—though it rather seems to invite it.

BUT the publicity of this event was somewhat overdone and it was inevitable that certain things should be said. The fact is, they should be said even though it again brings down upon the head of the savior the dreadful accusation that he is making a dastardly attack upon the President's family. The first and most obvious thing, of course, to say is that Elliott could not have secured a captaincy in any such way and with any such speed but for the fact that his father is in the White House. Here is a man well within the draft age, utterly lacking in any sort of military training, experience or special equipment, who simply makes an application and immediately is made a captain in the army, assigned to the "procurement" service.

THE President's eldest son, James Roosevelt, the big insurance and moving-picture man, holds a captain's commission in the United States Marines, and Franklin, Jr., is an ensign in the United States Navy. The latter, it is fair to state, did take the R. O. T. C. training course at Harvard and thus qualified in a regular way to hold a commission. But that is not true of either Elliott or James. Neither of them underwent any training nor has either of them had any experience of a kind to qualify him as an officer of the army. At the time of the passage of the Conscription Act, Mrs. Roosevelt wrote that young men like her sons should be among the very first to be called out for service. That seemed very noble and democratic, indeed, but it does not quite fit in with these easily secured commissions, obtained for the asking and without going through the months of training in the officers' training camps which are required of the ordinary young men who want to be an officer.

IT would be unjust, of course, to suggest that Elliott secured his captaincy in order to avoid the draft. Nevertheless the fact remains that he and his brother have now become exempt from the draft. They have become officers without the time, trouble and toil to fit themselves for officers required of other young men of their age. Under the circumstances, "priapism natural" that there should be a certain amount of resentment among thousands of young men soon to be drafted as privates at the thought of the Roosevelt boys becoming officers without going through the officers' training period—merely because they wanted to be officers.

Even drafted boys, of course, would like to be a captain if he could, but how many of them can become captains with the ease, celerity and grace of the Roosevelt boys? The answer, of course, is none—not one.

CONSIDERING these things, it might have been better if Capt. Elliott Roosevelt, who is just 30 years old, had refrained from making quite so unctuous and patronizing a statement as he did upon the receipt of his commission. "No matter what the sacrifice," he told newspapermen, "it is important for all young people to join up and take part in the defense program."

Considering these things, it does seem that Capt. Elliott Roosevelt would have been in better (better) to tell the "young people" of the country what they ought to do to aid defense if he either had waited for the draft or come into an officers' training camp like other "young people" have to do when they want to become officers.

THE implication of Captain Roosevelt's statement to the press is that "all young people" should follow his example. Aside from the fact that you cannot get commissions the way he got his unless you have White House influence, this was insufferably smug. It is not surprising that there should be irritation among the members of the American Legion, the prospective draftees and their families.

BOWEL CONTROL

As stated in the discussion of bowel control here yesterday, the basis of starting training at one month of age is to take advantage of the instinctive rhythm of the bowel. You take the child a few minutes before the usual schedule for the movement, remove the diaper and hold him over an ordinary chamber.

If the child is very young, of course he cannot sit up there by himself, so the mother must hold the chamber on her knee, and support the infant's head and back with her chest. With her left hand she should gently massage the abdomen, moving the hand slowly up the right side to the ribs, across and down the left side. The large bowel is in this area, and this massaging encourages the movement.

I know one mother who has had remarkable success teaching her baby bowel control. She has another little trick which works wonders. She always accompanies this massaging with some simple sound which the baby will eventually associate in his mind with what he is trying to do. We found, for instance, that the Quins responded very quickly to a grunting sound like "ugh, ugh." It isn't long before the child will learn to make this sound every time he feels a bowel movement coming on. He gives you warning.

But don't expect a baby to get the idea after a couple of days, particularly if there has been a month or two during which he exercised no control at all and acquired a lot of bad habits.

A mother may have to hold the baby on the chamber for five minutes. Now I know that many mothers have a house to run, and other children to attend to, and will feel that they have no time to give so much attention to this one function. Just remember, that in the long run teaching bowel control is going to save the time. And what is more, you are teaching your child a good habit, and it can be the first step in a long series of good habits. It is one of the early steps on the positive side of your child's training.

In teaching the small baby regularity of bowel movement the mother shouldn't hold the child on the chamber too long. If he doesn't respond after a few minutes, it is advisable to insert a glycerine suppository into the rectum. If you have no suppositories, a small piece of soap, an inch and a half long and the size of a lead pencil will do just as well. Remember, however, not to do this too often or it will become a habit.

When your child responds to your efforts, and begins to show that he has learned his lesson, show him how pleased you are. Children love appreciation and will strive for it for all they are worth.

Employment In State Is Gaining

Increase In State Twice As Much As In Country At Large

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Nonagricultural employment gained twice as much in Pennsylvania as in the country at large during the year ended in August, Secretary of Labor Perkins estimates.

Miss Perkins estimates that such employment in the Keystone State during August included 2,682,000 workers. This was an increase of 152,000 workers, or 6.1 per cent, over the corresponding 1939 month. In the country as a whole, such employment gained only 3 per cent.

Only eight states had greater percentage employment expansions than did Pennsylvania.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Does a broken back necessarily mean a cripple for life?

Five years ago a tennis player suffered such an accident.

This summer he was one of America's leading champions.

Many crippled children are being miraculously cured.

The program begins with medical and surgical treatment.

Follows educational and vocational training.

Such regimen helps to produce a useful citizen.

Disease, injury or birth defect may create a crippled child.

Use of bones, joints and muscles are handicapped.

Surgeons cannot, of course, correct all deformities.

They correct many and stay further deformity in others.

The untreated crippled child is a sadly handicapped child.

Sales Increase In New Castle

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—New Castle continues to rank well to the front in the recovery movement of sales by independent retail stores, the Commerce Department discloses.

During August, such sales in New Castle showed a gain of 23.2 per cent as compared with the identical month of last year. Sales in Pennsylvania at large, on the other hand, increased but 18.8 per cent. Only five of the state's cities with 25,000 or more population had greater percentage gains than New Castle.

Sales during the first eight months of the year recorded a 14.4 per cent increase in New Castle as against only 10.9 per cent in the state at large. Five major cities had larger percentage expansions.

Almira Home Gets Payment Of $625

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Auditor General Warren R. Roberts, authorized the payment of $53,208.16 to state-aided hospitals and homes for the quarter ending August 31. Payments included:

Beaver county—Beaver county children's home, New Brighton, $675.

Elwood City rang the gong again on Thursday when the second special registration day was held in the boro. The total for the day showed 157 new Republicans registering, 95 Democrats, 30 Party and 5 Independents. Four Democrats changed to Republicans and 2 Republicans changed to Democrats.

The total of the two special registration days in Elwood City will show approximately 800 voters qualified for the election, an unusual showing. While not all of the new registration came from Elwood City—some of them coming from adjoining townships—the showing is still far ahead of the two special days for registration held in New Castle.

October 5 is the last day to register for the November election. One week from today, Saturday October 5, marks the last chance to get in under the wire.

County Commissioners George H. Bolinger, William R. Walton and Joseph F. Travers, visited the new Harris bridge across the Slippery Rock on Friday morning, and found it to be a real bridge. Workmen of the H. B. Jacobs Company are now pouring the cement for the floor or deck of the bridge.

Within a short time the bridge will be ready for test traffic and then the roads on either side of the bridge will be finished. The new bridge is a railroad type bridge and will hold any load that is taken over it. The bridge contains about 300 tons of steel and 100 tons of concrete reinforcing.

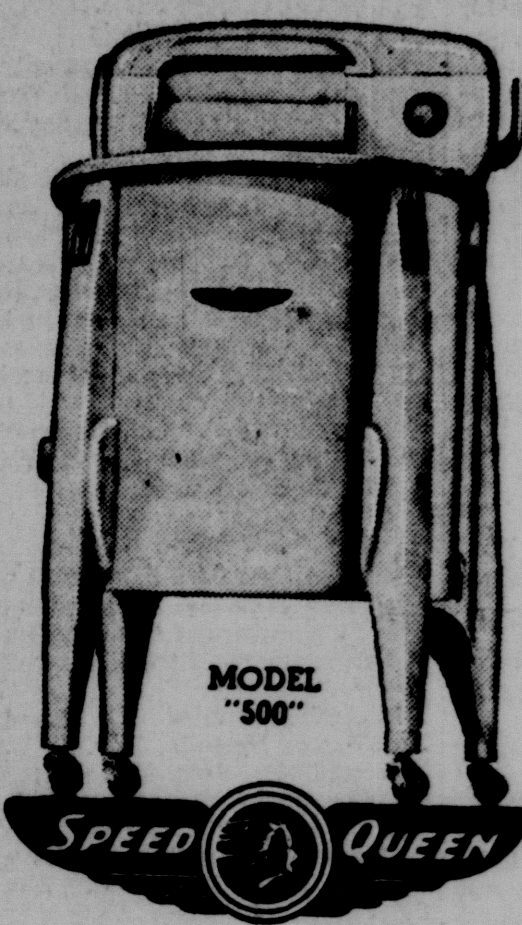

One of the older bridges of the county, the picturesque covered bridge at McConnell's Mills was broken recently by a heavy truck passing over it. A man named Moore of Portersville drove a nine ton truck and load across it and the supporting beams cracked. Mr. Moore was in the commissioner's office on Friday and agrees to pay the damage caused by the accident. The load limit of the bridge is seven tons.

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS BEAVER FALLS 19-0

CIAZZA-ROBERTS SCORE TOUCHDOWNS

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Hangs Up Third Victory Of Year; Sammy Ciazza And Larry Roberts Register Touchdowns; New Castle Line Performs Well; Tigers Offense Fails To Click; Crowd Estimated 6,500.

PUNCHING over a touchdown in every period but the second, a well-balanced and hard fighting New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team twisted the tail of the Beaver Falls Tigers eleven here last night at Taggart stadium.

19 to 0 before an estimated 6,500 crowd. It was the third victory of the year for the locals against one tie.

Sammy Ciazza and Larry Roberts did the New Castle scoring. New Castle did not have to open up very much. For the most part the New Castles played "under wraps" due to the tough game that awaits them next week at Sharon.

Score Comes Early

About midway in the first period New Castle had its first touchdown. Sammy Ciazza skipped around the left side of the Beaver Falls line after taking the ball from Lee on the new streamlined version of the old Statue of Liberty play of years back. It caught the Tigers unprepared. Ciazza easily threaded his way to the pay-dirt. Adamo failed to kick the extra-point.

The end of the first period found Beaver Falls with the ball on their own 14. New Castle broke a scoring chance near the end of the period when Ciazza fumbled the ball on an attempted lateral. Ross of Beaver Falls recovering on the visitors 14 just as the whistle ended the period. New Castle led 6 to 0. New Castle had three first downs to none for Beaver Falls, the figures showed.

Time Second Period

The second period failed to provide anything of a sensational nature. The teams battled back and forth in mid-field for the most part. New Castle had one scoring chance in the second stanza, when Lee passed to Bucci and it was intercepted by F. Knapp on the Beaver Falls 15-yard line.

The end of the first half found the locals in possession of the ball when Roberts intercepted a pass. Just prior to this, Beaver Falls had made its first first down on the Beaver Falls 39, as the result of a pass. The end of the first half it was New Castle 6 and Beaver Falls 0. The first downs were one apiece for the period.

Larry Roberts Scores

The third period began with Burri kicking to the Tigers on the Beaver Falls 15, the ball being taken by Knapp. He returned it to the Tiger 22. The Tigers made but six yards on three plays by Weise and Czarniecki, and the latter kicked to New Castle with Ciazza taking the ball on the New Castle 45 and carrying it to the Beaver Falls 43.

Lee passed to Bucci for a first down on the Beaver Falls 36 yard mark. Roberts picked up three, Ciazza made three. Lee tossed a pass to Bucci that was batted down. Lee gave the ball to Ciazza on the streamlined Statue of Liberty play again and Ciazza made a first down on the Beaver Falls 15. Roberts made five yards, then picked up one more. New Castle took time out.

On the first play after time was resumed Lee passed to Bucci who lateraled to Roberts and the colored speed-merchant was over the goal line with the second touchdown. Adamo made good the extra-point by placement. New Castle 13, Beaver Falls 0.

Ciazza Ends Scoring

New Castle was touched down bent later in the third period but a fumble on the part of a New Castle back after Bucci had passed to McKee for a nice gain to the Beaver Falls 19, hurt the locals' scoring chances. New Castle had the ball on the Beaver Falls 13 as the third period ended, a Tiger pass being taken by Bucci on the Beaver Falls 30. Lee then passed Bucci with locals picking up a first down on the Beaver Falls 18. Ciazza made four and the period was over. New Castle had four first downs to none for the Tigers in the stanza.

Burris lost a yard as the final period began. Lee heaved a pass to Bucci that the Tigers grounded. Lee tried the center of the line and made a yard. Freddie McKee who had been playing a swell game at quarterback was injured but stayed in the game. New Castle lost the ball on downs on the Beaver Falls 18.

Weise lost a yard at tackle. Joe Knapp fumbled and New Castle recovered on the Beaver Falls 4 yard line. Lee made a yard, then Ciazza went through tackle and had his second touchdown. Burris tried the extra-point but failed. New Castle 19—Beaver Falls 0.

Reserves Get Chance

At this point Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh decided his regulars had had enough for the night and sent in practically a whole new team made up of first string reserves. The backfield had Biddle at fullback, Joe Izzo at quarter, B. Izzo and Burris. On the line was Masters, Peters, Conti, Tomaliello, Gunn, Genkinger, Isaac.

The reserves didn't score, but they made sure that the Tigers didn't score either. Towards the dying moments of the game Beaver Falls made its only serious scoring threat of the night, when Burris passed and it was taken by Tack and he carried it to the New Castle 38, else tried a pass and it failed. A pass Weise to Ross who lateraled to F. Knapp put the ball on the New Castle 20 as the game ended, the play being scored as a first down for the Tigers their second of the game.

The play of the New Castle varsity line deserves mention. The boys up front there did a swell job last night of keeping the Beaver Falls ball carriers from going anywhere. It's going to take a fine line to outcharge the "Red Hurricanes".

Softball Title Series On Sunday

The National Radiators and Johnson Bronze will play the second game of their three-game series on Sunday at Gaston Park at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced today. The Rads won the first game. Fans Enjoy Bands At Grid Battle

The football fans last night some 6,500 of them had the pleasure of seeing two of the finest high school bands in the state last night between halves of the New Castle-Beaver Falls grid game—in the swell 95 piece Beaver Falls band and of course our own fine New Castle High band of 102 pieces.

Led by their director Adolph Pletnick, the Beaver Falls High band was honored with the field first after the half ended and formed the letters U.S.A., the band accompanied by girl flag wavers who sang, played "God Bless America". The Beaver Falls alma mater song was also played. The New Castle band under the direction of Prof. Joe Repligle also paraded the field and played several snappy tunes.

It was a very colorful evening and a very orderly crowd.

Union Loses To Greenville

Powerful Greenies Score Twice In Second Quarter To Win Here Friday

LARGE GALLERY WITNESSES GAME

Punching across a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter, Greenville's powerful eleven registered a 13-0 victory over a scrappy Union Township High team Friday afternoon on Union field before more than 1,000 spectators.

During most of the initial period the Scotch folk pushed their way within Greenville's 40. Gorgas heaved to Kline, who was downed on the visitors' 36. Union gave up the ball on downs. On a series of line smashes by Paul and Gerald Junk, Greenville reached Union's 29.

Visitors Score

After Mosconi was tossed for a yard loss, Paul Junk broke through center to the Union 20. On a similar play, P. Junk reached the 11 and before being downed, his brother, Gerald, found collaborator on two line smashes, reaching the Union 4 as the first period ended. On the opening play of the second canto, Paul Junk bulled his way across the line for a touchdown. Donato split the uprights for the extra point. Greenville 7, Union 0.

Unable to solve the visiting team's defense, the local team was forced to punt. Near the close of the period, Greenville took the ball on their own 38. Paul Junk tossed an aerial to Dunnivant, who had substituted a few plays before. Dunnivant dashed 31 yards to Union's 36. After Greenville drew a 5-yard off-side penalty, Gerald Junk swept around right end to the Union 11. Paul Junk went through to the 3 and then to the 1. His brother, Gerald, found a hole through tackle and went over. Donato failed to annex the extra-point.

Union Plays Well

Union outplayed Greenville throughout the last half. Late in the quarter, the locals took the ball on their own 28. Vinton made 1 through center and Ringloom broke loose around right end to the 40. Joe Kline sent the stands wild by zig-zagging around his right wing for 35 yards, reaching Greenville's 25 as the quarter ended.

Vinton netted 1 yard through center. Then, Gorgas shot a pass to Taylor, who was stopped on Greenville's 14. Gorgas next rifled a pass to Kline on the 9. On the quarter-back sneak play, Louis Vinton marched to the 6. Two unsuccessful passes ended Union's scoring threat. Near the end of the game the visitors reached the 14 when Benedetto recovered Kline's fumble. After one play, the game ended.

Union provided a lot of opposition for the vaunted Greenies. Vinton and Kline starred in the backfield while Presner and Allen were outstanding on the line. The Junk brothers were Greenville's big guns.

Detroit Tigers Clinch Pennant

Defeat Cleveland As Ruddy York Homers Off Bobby Feller, Score 2-0

By GEORGE E. MOISE
International News Service Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—The winner and new champion—the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers today owned the American league pennant, just five years after they won their last championship, because rookie pitcher Floyd Giebell was able to decision Bob Feller 2 to 0 before a hostile crowd of 45,553 in Cleveland municipal stadium.

They also had the pennant because the New York Yankees eliminated themselves from the race by losing 6 and 2 to the Philadelphia Athletics. And they won because of Ben Chapman, Cleveland left fielder and goat of the ball game.

York Hits Homer

Three times Chapman struck out, and every time a hit would have meant a run. He fanned with men on first and third, on first and second, and on second and third. And he just missed catching Rudy York's drive that dropped into the edge of the stands for a home run and the decision.

The homer that won the game came in the fourth inning. Charlie Gehring was on first as a result of one of Feller's six walks. Hank Greenberg had struck out and left it up to York, and York came through. The drive, near the left field foul line, dropped into the very edge of the stands, so near the field, in fact, that Chapman actually touched the ball with the tip of his glove as he leaped in the air. But it was a homer, and it won the pennant for the Tigers.

Feller allowed but three hits, as compared to the six the tall, cool Giebell gave the tribe. But the 24-year-old Detroit rookie, up from Buffalo of the International league only ten days, walked but two Indians, and he had it in the clutches, much to Chapman's sorrow.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Frankie Ross the baseball umpire is in Atlanta, Ga., he postcards Giebell, rookie, of Detroit, from Pennsylvania, W. Va., and was recalled from Buffalo of the International league to the Tigers too late to participate in the world series.

Bessemer High Defeated, 7-0

Lawrence Countians Drop Initial Decision Of Season To Ursuline High

Bessemer High dropped its first football decision of the season, to Ursuline High, 7-0, Friday night, on Raven Field, Youngstown.

Punting featured first quarter play. In the Ursuline aerial, Johnston snatched the ball just inside the midfield stripe and ran to the Ohioans' 40. On the next play Swanson fired a long pass to Johnston. It looked like a sure touchdown play but the ball slithered out of the hands of the right end.

Bessemer then was forced to kick. Ursuline annexed a first down on three successive line smashes, reaching their own 35, late in the second quarter. Stepping back to about the 43, Nisley pitched one high and far to Dorsey, right end. The ball carrier was finally brought down by Gallo on the Bessemer 1. Banks plunged over for the touchdown. The pass covered 65 yards.

The Lawrence Countians threatened in the third period. The rally was thwarted by two penalties. In the fourth, Ursuline paraded to Bessemer's 1 on two occasions but was unable to score.

Shenango Ties Zelenople High

Exciting Clash Here On Friday Afternoon Ends In 12-12 Draw

MAJESKI-DENNY TALLY FOR LOCALS

In one of the most exciting clashes played on Shenango field in several seasons, a crippled Shenango township high aggregation battled Zelenople high to a 12-12 draw on Friday afternoon.

The visitors cashed in with their first touchdown on an 85-yard run by Sosmoski, center, who intercepted a Shenango aerial in the opening period. The locals were well on their way to a score when the pass was snatched by the alert Zelenople pivot man.

A sustained drive, in the third period, paved the way for Shenango's second score. With Majeski, O'Neill and Stoltica taking turns at crushing through the line, the East New Castle team marched 60 yards to Zelenople's 1. Denny bulled his way over the final stripe. O'Neill again missed the try for extra point.

With less than six minutes of play left, the visiting eleven started a 60 yard sustained drive. Zelenople reached Shenango's 25. From this time, Lutz rifled a short pass to Francis, who grabbed the ball on the 10 and dashed over. A line plunge try for the extra marker was smeared.

Shenango played minus the services of Captain Dudash, center. Colvert, tackle, Richard Donley, right half back, and Cline, fullback, all regulars. The quartet was hurt in the Marion game last week.

Rochester High Wins From Ellwood 18-0

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—A fast, veteran Rochester high school eleven, handed Ellwood City high school's football team its first taste of defeat last night under the maddas at Lincoln Field as they, led by J. Leonard, an exceptionally able player, three times invaded Ellwood's territory to win an 18-0 victory.

While the portable lighting system used on the field left much to be desired in providing clear visibility, the night was ideal and a record crowd of more than three thousand persons filled the bleachers and formed a solid wall around the field to see their favorite team in action. The winning team was accompanied by a great many cheering fans.

The game had scarcely started when Rochester drew first blood. Ellwood lost the ball on downs and Rochester took the ball on their own 36. On the first play Hodnick, on a tricky reverse, that consistently seemed to click against Ellwood, pushing aside the opposition, raced down the field 45 yards before he was stopped by Dudick. Hodnick passed to M. Leonard for 16 yards and another first and ten on Ellwood's four. The Ellwood line stiffened and held three times but on the last try Hodnick went around right end to score. The try for the extra point failed.

A few minutes later Burg electrified the crowd as he took a pass and ran 46 yards into touchdown land. The play was nullified because the pass was illegal, being a forward lateral.

However, it was only a slight delay as in the next couple of plays, Burg heaved a beautiful 36 yard pass to M. Leonard and the ball was on Ellwood's twenty. Once again they staged an "airkrie" and in the fourth attempt Jersey's pass to M. Leonard was good for 18 more and the ball was on Ellwood's three. Burg hit the right side of Ellwood's line in the next play and was through to put the visitors out in front, 12 to 0.

On Defensive
All through the first half, the Croft-Gills machine was on the defensive and the result was an exhibition of the heavier valley team out charging the hometowners. After the customary rest period, the Ellwood team came back to take the offensive in the second half and although they made a superb effort, and once got the ball down to the Rochester 2, they were unable to score. Their comeback is evident by the statistical record of having made 9 first downs in the second half while the Meyer's crew were unable to register a single first and ten. Being unable to muster either a pass defense or pass offense, the Ellwood lads saw the winners score by those methods in every touchdown. Both teams played exceptionally hard and as a result had many players injured. Seeth's, Ellwood's stellar end, went on to injuries in the first period and the ailing Snare was unable to play for only a short period. The absence of Ellwood's blocking quarter, Paul Cartwright, was most noticeable on defense.

Third Touchdown
Ellwood's touchdown drive that ended two yards short of paydirt began when Pishione covered Rochester's fumble on the Rochester 36. DeCaria, who had been injured in the first period, took the ball 35 yards in a series of line smashes. But the visitors put up a sturdy defense that held the Ellwood players in four tries for the necessary four yards. Hodnick immediately kicked the ball out of the danger zone and Decario returned it to the 35 before being downed. Then came the game's most exciting moment for the Rochester fans and the most disheartening for the Ellwood following as J. Leonard intercepted Lardo pass on his own 25 and with the speed and finesse of a professional, reversing his field, and pushing aside the opposition like confetti ran 75 yards down the field to score the final touchdown for the Rams. There was only time enough left for a couple of plays after his sensational run.

Despite the hard playing, the game was free from penalties entirely for Ellwood and Rochester was set back only 15 yards and that for offside and illegal passing.

Next Saturday afternoon, the Ellwoodians will be hosts to Butler high school at Lincoln field, in what is expected to be another difficult game for the locals.

The Rochester band accompanied the team and with the Ellwood band performed creditably at the half adding color and enjoyment to the evening's pageantry.

George Straw Is Killed In Crash

Fatal Injuries Received As Truck Overturns On Ellwood-Zenipole Road

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—From injuries received in an accident, which occurred on the Ellwood-Zenipole road about 4:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, George Straw, aged 21 years, of 819 Second street, died at 5:15 o'clock at the Ellwood City hospital. He died fifteen minutes after being admitted to the hospital from a fractured skull and a crushed chest.

The accident occurred near the Camp Run road intersection about one hundred yards west on the highway, when a truck owned by Straw and driven by Frank Neve, 23, 201 Hillside avenue, got out of control and overturned.

Neve told state police that he was traveling in the direction of Ellwood and that a car turned from the Camp Run road onto the highway. He said that he swerved around the car and in doing so lost control of the truck which the officers said was heavily loaded with coal. Neve reported to Private Ralph Richter and Private H. B. Lofblad, of the Beaver county state patrol station, that this was his first experience in driving a loaded truck. The truck, he said, began to sway, hit the right side guard rail, turned over, throwing the bed completely off the truck. While the officers are still investigating the accident they have so far been unable to learn the driver's name of the other car that figured in the accident.

The accident victim was a son of Mrs. Frank Straw, his father having died several weeks ago. He is survived by four brothers, Tony, Charles, Nick and Carl, all of Ellwood; and four sisters, Mary, at home, Mrs. Rose Rocco, Mrs. Pauline Luca and Mrs. Alice Taylor, all of Ellwood.

Beware the people who hasten to tell you about a neighbor's treachery. They are trying to prejudice your mind before you hear the truth.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESSEBALL

It's different and beautiful... no we are not going to talk about the 1941 automobiles but we are calling your attention to a program that has been arranged for tomorrow, Sunday, September 29, at the Epworth M. E. Church... it will carry out the theme of fall and all its trimmings, trying into the Biblical lesson centered around the harvest time of the year... Harvest Day, as tomorrow is called by members of the church, will be a day that will be carried down in the memories of those who attend or visit the church. Two mammoth loaves of bread have been prepared and an abundance of everything will be displayed... flowers from the gardens of members of the church have been gathered and will fill the church auditorium with that warm fall color... fruits and vegetables canned by the housewives of the community will sparkle amidst the flowers of plenitude... really folks this Harvest Home Day will be well worth attending... you are not especially urged to forego the pleasure of attending your own church tomorrow morning but you are especially invited to visit the Epworth church tomorrow afternoon... the door will be open all day... so why not stop around and pay this congregation a visit.

In case you are interested... we have here information concerning the giving away of a dog... part fox terrier and hound... about three months old and a female... color black and brown and can be seen at the home of Mrs. Herman Conrad of 718 Erie Ave. with the phone number being 753-M.

It seems that about thirty-five men from New Castle are working in an armour plant in South Charleston... and each of these men are of the same opinion... and that opinion is... "New Castle is sure a good town to live in and when you are away it sure is nice to get to the old home town"... From time to time we expect to hear from these boys in the south and we in turn will pass along their thoughts.

Tomorrow should be a nice day... and many of you will jump into the old bus and hit for the main highway... remember to drive carefully... you can't think about this too much... more people are killed by autos than by war.

Workmen Are Removing Traffic Hazard On Mt. Jackson And Wampum Roads

Workmen have started the job of widening Montgomery avenue and the highway at the intersection of the Mt. Jackson and Wampum roads. At the present time a traffic hazard exists because of the sharp curve just at the city limits. This curve is also being made wider as a part of the project.

A power shovel and grader and several trucks have been put to work on the job.

The road is being made wider on both sides, taking part out of the grassy plot at the intersection. The workmen will continue to make the Mt. Jackson road wider and a portion of this road between Mahoningtown and Mt. Jackson will be resurfaced.
